

Denise's Offer

Deadline 12/6/2019, 5:00pm Mountain Time (email date/time stamp) – no exceptions 😊

If you want to send me the first 100 hundred words only from a work-in-progress, I am happy to read and give one or two overall “high level” impressions—reads like a picture book or not, character/story problem identified, word and language tool usage, etc. If you want to take advantage of this, please follow these guidelines:

- Follow proper manuscript formatting—1” margins all the way around, double spacing, first line indent for new paragraphs, Times New Roman or similar font, 12pt. “Chunking” the text is fine too!
- Email subject line: DU PB First 100
- Attach the first 100 words as a Word, PDF, or Pages doc. Please find a good stopping point rather than ending in the middle of a sentence, even if it's less than 100 words. Illustration notes do not count as part of your 100 words.
- Send to me by 5:00pm December 6. I will reply no later than Dec 20.
critiques@denisevega.com

If you want to continue with your writing, I would encourage you to explore more writing classes, join a writing group, and keep writing, revising, and improving!

If you want something more in-depth, I do offer paid critiques and consultations, but if you haven't been writing for very long, I encourage you to work on your craft for a while before getting more in-depth feedback!

<https://www.denisevega.com/contact/critiques-consultations/>
(5% discount for my students)

<https://www.fiverr.com/denisevegabooks/tell-you-if-your-story-is-a-picture-book-story>